In the USA we are putting milk and casien derived compuonds in most every thing. Monosodium glutimate is another problem. If we do not have truth in labeling we will be endangering our children and our children's children. We, my children and I, are severly alergic to all forms and derivatives of milk. There presence in our foods can send any of us to the emergency room with anaphylaxic shock.

We have to know about foods that may be altered or engineered for our lives depend on the knowledge. As a father I spend several hours weekly reviewing ingredient labels to screen for our known allergens. If a food is engineered improperly (as did Monsanto with rBHG) and one of us react to it WE MUST KNOW OUR VERY LIVES DEPEND ON KNOWING.

Repectfully Yours,
